Tosca' in Lendon. In case she comes to this country she will open in New York and make a tour of the principal cities. Mrs. Beere has had many opportunities to come to this country.

"Three Only Daughters" is the name of a comedy that is to be produced about the midd e of February at Dockstader's. Miss Madge Butler and Miss Anna Macgregor are to play two of the daughters. It is said that a good cast has been secured, and rehearsals are going on daily.

Mr. J. M. Hill's company will begin rehearsing "The Pembertons" to-morrow. The play will be read to them at the Union Square Theatre. There will probably be twenty-two rehearsals, which ought to be enough to satisfy the debutante, Miss Cora Edsall.

Negotiations with a view to extending the run of "The Senator" at the Star Theatre are being carried on by Manager Joseph Brooks. The play is a lung success. On Saturdsy night the Star Theatre was packed to the very doors. Mr. Brooks says that his wildest expectations have been surpassed, and if you know what the wildest expectations of a theatrical manager are, that statement will speak for itself.

for itself,

It is said that T. Henry French and his father are bidders for the Drury Lane pantomime. "Jack and the Beaustalk," for which Mr. Comstock, on behalf of E. G. Gilmore, had nearly completed arrangements for production at Niblo's Garden.

Among the "carriage folks" in Central Among the "carriage folks" in Central Park every afternoon are Mr. Denman Thompson and his daughters. The young ladies are very fond of New York's swell drive, and Denman Thompson, like the good pupa he is, likes that which his children like. "The Old Homestend," on wheels, is quite an interesting sight.

W. T. Ferguson, the popular character actor, will be seen as J. Cool Diagon, the Chicago lawyer, in Richard Mansfield's production of 'Prince Karl," at Palmer's Theure to-night. Mr. Ferguson was specially engaged for the part.

Manager Amberg was very much better to-night. His aliment was not grippical but stomachic.

The statement of the coming change of The statement of the coming change of bill at the Standard Theatre that was made on Saturday night had been expected for some time, though it was, of course, not known that Mr. Rosenfeld's "Stepping Stones" would be substituted for "The Seven Agea." Unfortunate circumstances alone are to blame. Mr. Dixey's production is a charming one. It would give lessons to both of the Galety burlesque companies and read a positive sermon to "Bluebeard, Jr."
